

Learn the Viennese Waltz as Danced in Vienna

Join us for this popular series of lessons in Viennese Waltz taught by Herbert and Carol Traxler.

Honored by the Republic of Austria, the Traxlers have taught the Viennese Waltz to thousands of Washingtonians at such venues as The White House, The Embassy of Austria, Meridian House and The Smithsonian. No prior dance experience required. Couples and individuals are welcome; dancers will change partners frequently throughout lessons.

Then celebrate the season. . . Saturday, December 1 at a grand Viennese Christmas Ball at the prestigious Congressional Country Club, featuring Champagne reception, Austrian desserts buffets and selected wines. Music by Con Brio! - Washington's celebrated salon orchestra, performing the world's favorite Strauss waltzes, polkas and ballroom music from around the world. Join in a grand march to the famed Radetzky March and dance the Fledermaus Quadrille No. 6 as done at midnight at the balls in Vienna. Traditional Viennese Opening Ceremonies will be performed by Midshipmen of the United States Naval Academy.
